

Members' Weekend, AGM & Conference

DUNDEE 2024

CAMRA Pub Heritage Group

How to Create a Local Pub Heritage Listing

Dave Pickersgill

pubheritage@sheffield.camra.org.uk

with: Andrea Briers & Kevin Keaveny

MW 2024 Fringe Event

This workshop will take you on a step-by-step-step journey through the process of creating, and publishing, a Local Pub Heritage List:

a list of your local pubs that have heritage features

Your list will include the Three*, Two* and One* pubs which are on the national Pub Heritage Listings.

Slides and Handouts are available from:

The CAMRA National Pub Heritage website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk/>

Introduction

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageLocalInventoriesIntroduction.pdf>

Detailed Guide

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageCreatingLocalInventories.pdf>

Presentation

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageLocalInventoriesPresentation.pdf>

Overview:

1. Welcome
2. Overview
3. National PH listings - * system
4. National PH website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk/>
5. Local inventories
6. Activity – your Local inventory
7. Local Inventories – Sheffield example
8. Aspirations & the detail
9. Summary and way forward
10. Slides & Handouts

National Pub Heritage Listings:

<https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk>

Three Star – Exceptional national historic importance

~ 300

Two Star – Outstanding national historic interest

**

~ 270

One Star – Special national historic interest

*

~ 750

Local Inventories (LI):

Pubs which don't make the national listings, but have distinctive features:

- Interior
- Exterior

Two examples:
Hallamshire House, Walkley
King and Miller, Deeper

1962 refit by Wards Brewery

Crown and Glove, Stannington

Tympanum:
ceramic work in deep relief

Blue Ball, Worrall

Blue Ball, Worrall

Blue Ball, Worrall

Your Local Inventory - Activity:

- singly, or in small groups:

- 1. Select a geographical area with which you are familiar
- 2. Using your phone, go to the PHG website and search the national Pub Heritage website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk/>
- 3. Note the names and * rating for pubs located in your area
- 4. Using your local knowledge, add the names of other pubs in your area which have distinctive heritage feature(s). Include a few words to describe these feature(s).

Using your local knowledge, add the names of other pubs in your area which have distinctive heritage feature(s). Include a few words to describe these feature(s).

For example:

Hallamshire

distinctive external tiling

Crown and Glove

unchanged interior since 1962 distinctive exterior carvings

Old Crown

distinctive interior tiling

Red Lion

small, long-unchanged snug

Your Local Inventory - Activity:

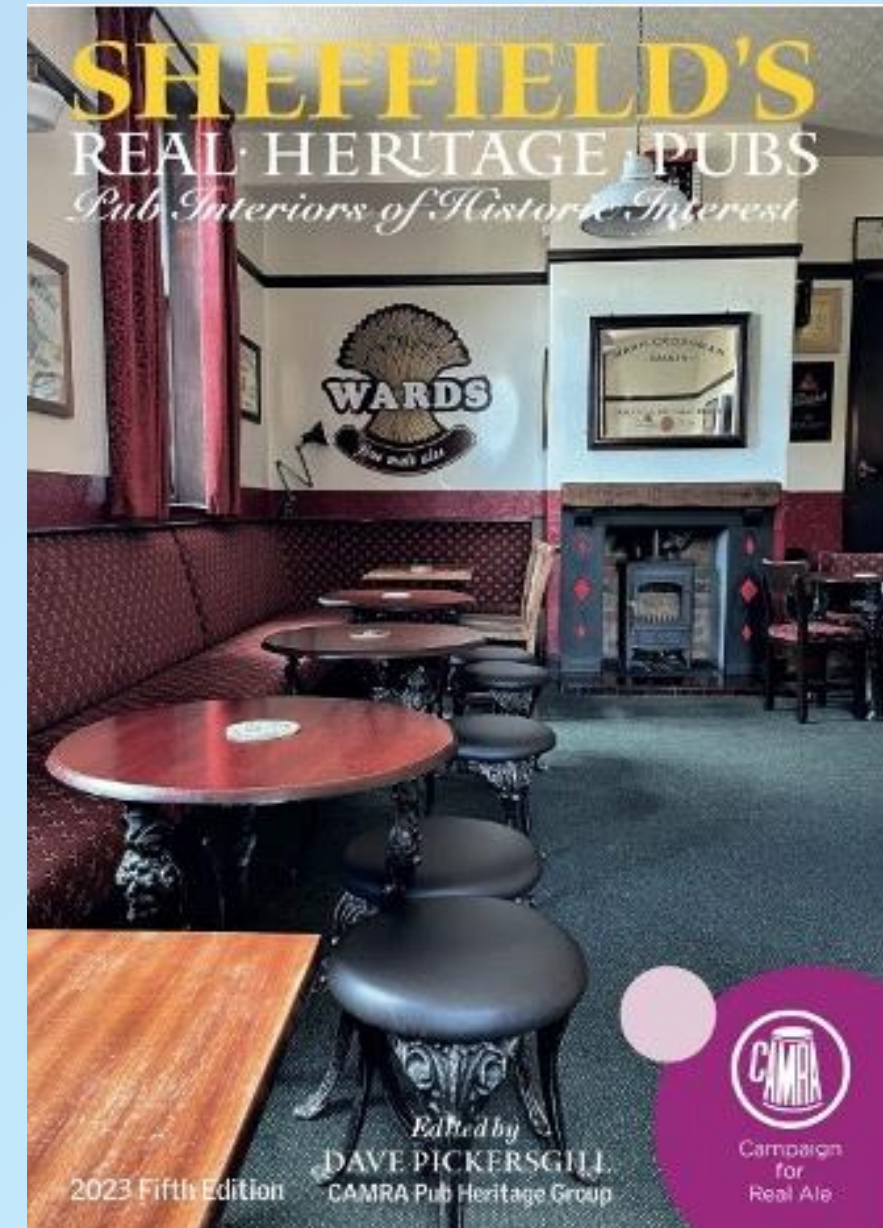

1. Select a geographical area with which you are familiar
2. National Pub Heritage website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk/>
3. Names and * rating for pubs located in your area
4. Other pubs which have distinctive heritage feature(s)

Examples

'Sheffield's Real Heritage Pubs'

2017: 2018: 2019: 2021: 2023

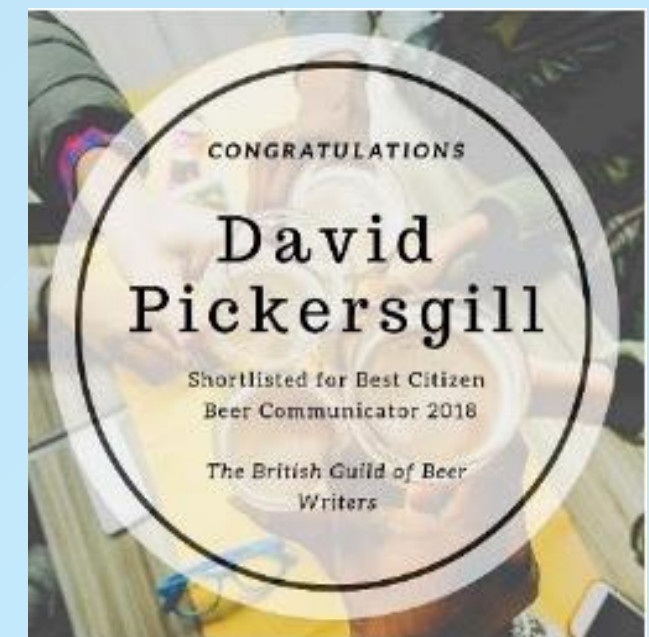

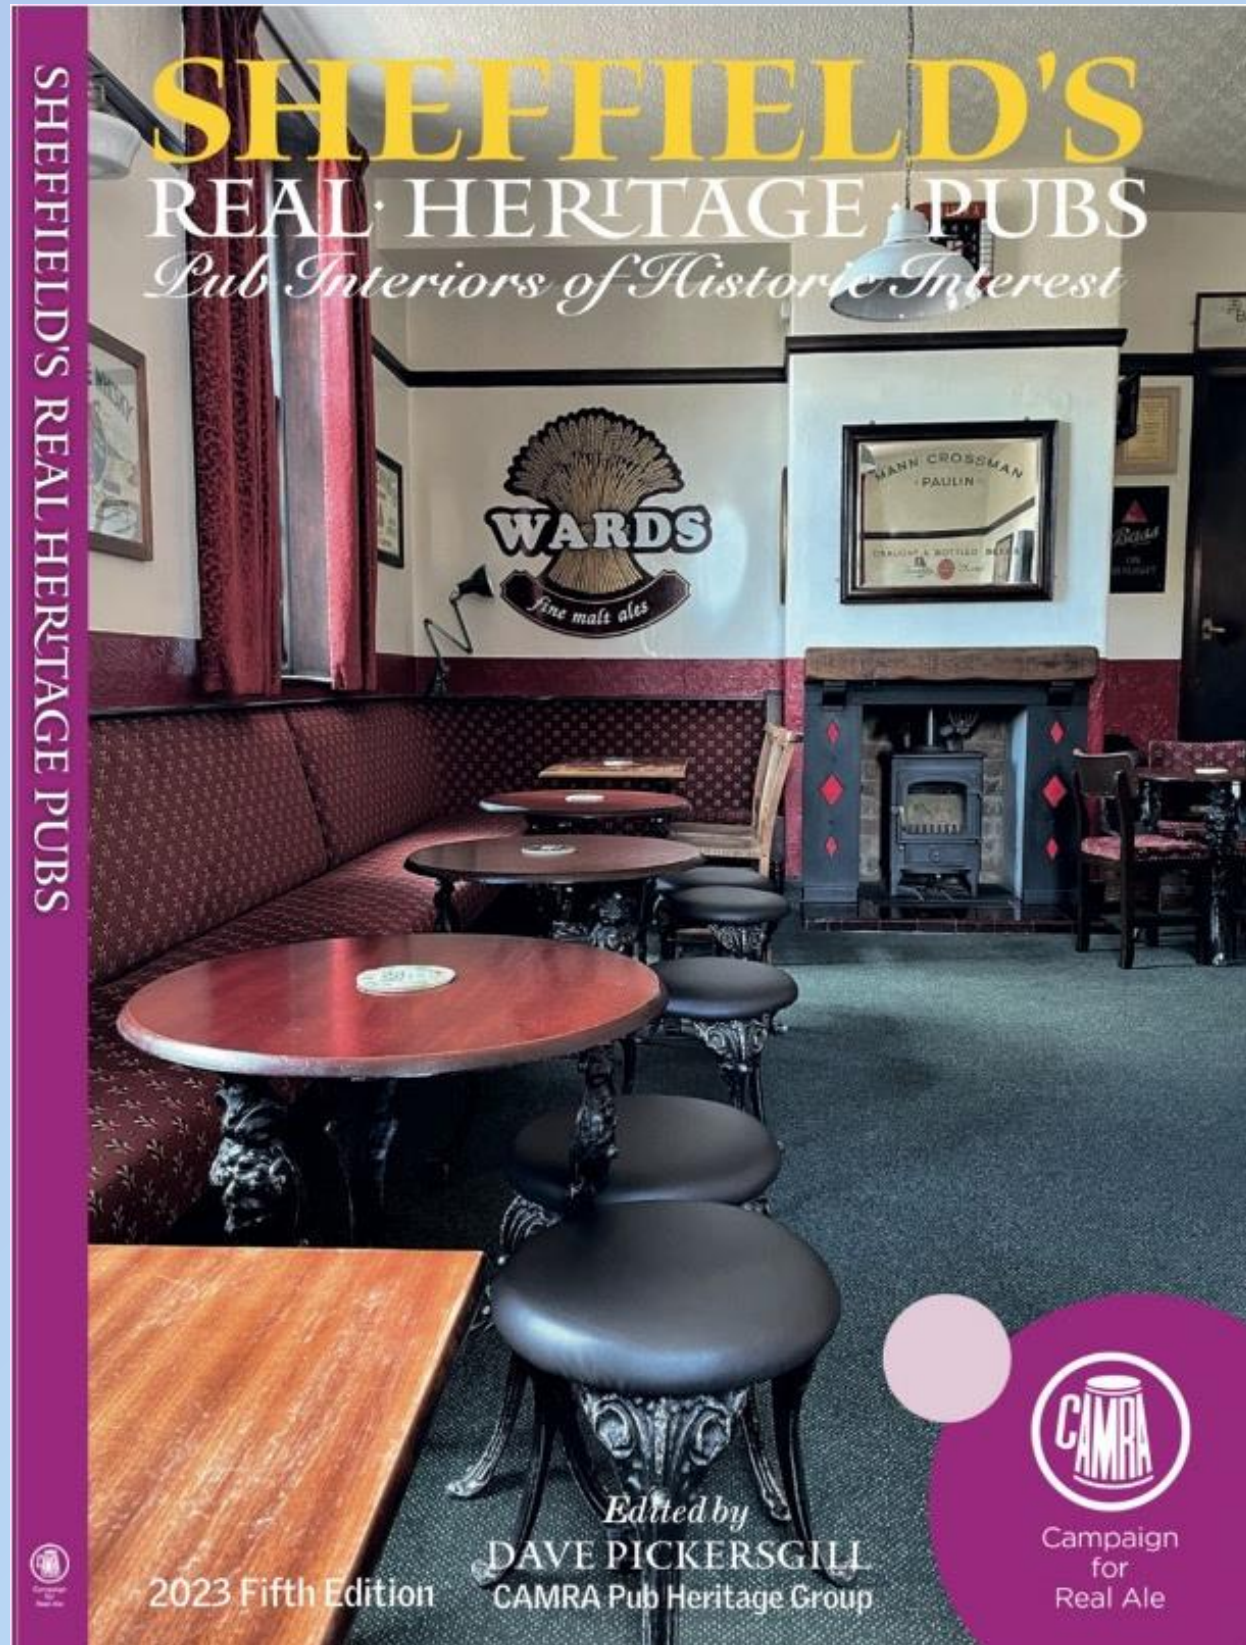

Free download: <https://sheffield.camra.org.uk/rhp/>

<https://sheffield.camra.org.uk/rhp/>

Free download:

- 120 pages
- over 350 images

Guidance and Assistance available

PUB HERITAGE – CREATING LOCAL INVENTORIES

Creating a Local Inventory and Publishing a Local Pub Heritage Guide

Introduction:
Over the last thirty years, the CAMRA Pub Heritage Group (PHG) have produced a series of regional and national Pub Heritage Guides. Together, the regional guides cover the whole of the country, several running into second editions and/or, some years after the original, a completely rewritten new edition. They include listings of pubs, and clubs, which are on the National Inventory (NI) for their interior.

The only local guide to be produced, in a similar format (A5 portrait, full colour throughout), is 'Sheffield's Real Heritage Pubs.' The first edition, download only, was in 2017, new editions following. The 2018 and 2021 printed editions both made a four-figure surplus and are sell-outs. It is anticipated the same will occur for the 2023 edition. In addition to National Inventory listings, these publications also include both local heritage listings and pubs listed for Outstanding Conservation and Restoration (OCR).

Throughout, the book has been available as a free download. <https://sheffield.camra.org.uk/rhp/>

The process of creating a Local Inventory and a detailed local guide

1. Overview

What are you trying to achieve?

2. Area:

What geographical area are you covering?

- A city? (eg. The City of Sheffield)
- A defined area? (eg. Central Manchester, the Holme Valley, Rutland

Keep it sensible/feasible – an LI is exactly that – local - at some point, every pub on your list will need visiting – better to start with a small geographical area and expand than start big and have to reduce.

For example: Sheffield – initial LI work has been done on nearby Dronfield – this could either evolve into a separate undertaking or become part of a bigger whole.

3. Pub classifications:

LOCAL INVENTORY (LI)
– A DETAILED LIST OF ALL PUBS (AND CLUBS) OF HERITAGE INTEREST LOCATED IN A DEFINED GEOGRAPHICAL AREA.

★★★ Information on Three*, Two* and One* NI pubs¹ is available on the PHG website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk>

¹ This document refers throughout to 'Pubs' – this should be taken as referring to both 'Pubs and Clubs.'

PUB HERITAGE – CREATING LOCAL INVENTORIES

Information on OCR pubs is also available: <https://ocrpubs.camra.org.uk/>

You will need to look for:

- Local Inventory of Historic Pub Interiors: pubs with a reasonable degree of intactness in their layout and some of their fittings. Visitors should get a good idea of how the interior was originally arranged even if, for example, doors have been removed or extensions added.
- Local Inventory of Historic Pub Interiors: pubs where the layout has changed more radically but where particular fittings or features of real importance survive.
- Local Inventory of Historic Pub Exteriors: pubs where the historic interior has been entirely destroyed. Typically the original multi-room layout is transformed into a single open plan area around a central bar. However, the pub retains an exterior which is of a very high quality or includes specific features. You may also wish to include some pubs which have been converted from older buildings.

4. Creating a Local Inventory:

It is essential to see the creation of a Local Inventory as a manageable series of steps:

1. WhatPub: add heritage images and information (use the 'Historic Interest' field)
2. PHG website: update information and images
3. Article(s) for a local CAMRA/history magazine and/or Pub History Society magazine
4. Creating a Local PH Inventory
5. A publication – (for example: website, flyer, booklet, book)
 - ⇒ Best to start simple: update Whatpub information, produce short articles (which can be later up-dated & reused) then look to a larger publication and/or develop an online presence.

Use what already exists. There is lots of information on the national Pub Heritage website. This will give you information on Three*, Two* and One* pubs and (possibly) information on other pubs which miss out on One* but are LI. The latter may include pubs which were originally categorised as of 'Some Regional Importance' (SRI) but do not make the criteria for One*.

You may also wish to consider the inclusion of OCR pubs.

Creating a printed publication (book/booklet/flyer):

1. Project Team:

This could be one person, or a team. Roles can be shared, individuals can take on multiple roles. Ensure the following roles are covered:

- Project Manager
- Images
- Research
- Text writing
- Finance, including Sponsorship
- Design, including colours, fonts....

2. Availability:

Printed document – how many copies?
Free download – share the link
(this is not a vanity project, this is campaigning)
- Keep ongoing data regarding the number of downloads

The way forward:

- consult national pub heritage listings and Pub Heritage Group
 - add possibilities using local knowledge
 - research, photos, information
- => Increased documentation of our pub heritage
- => Proposals for pubs to be NI-rated
- => Local pub heritage articles and publications
(both web-based and print)

Dave Pickersgill

pubheritage@sheffield.org.uk

with: Andrea Briers & Kevin Keaveny

Slides and Handouts are available from:

The CAMRA National Pub Heritage website: <https://pubheritage.camra.org.uk/>

Introduction

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageLocalInventoriesIntroduction.pdf>

Detailed Guide

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageCreatingLocalInventories.pdf>

Presentation

<https://files.pubheritage.camra.org.uk/PubHeritageLocalInventoriesPresentation.pdf>

